All yours – obviously the sooner we can wrap this up the better, but understand we have a lot going on.

Good work on the Background information, and just some clarification needed on the Political stuff.

Scott – assuming you gave us the heads up about the National Committeewoman being a possible PPO nomination?

9 ELECTORAL VOTES
2006 – GOVERNOR BOB RILEY (R) UP

ALABAMA BRIEFING

STATE ISSUES

EMPLOYMENT FIGURES

As of February 2006, Alabama's unemployment rate was 3.6 percent, 2.1 percent below its peak of 5.7 percent in November 2003. As of March, the national unemployment rate was 4.7 percent.

KATRINA HEALTH CARE REIMBURSEMENT

On March 28, Governor Bob Riley (R) announced that the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services has approved the state's plan to reimburse health care providers for assistance to Hurricane Katrina victims. Under the plan, up to $5 million will be provided for Alabama Medicaid to reimburse doctors, hospitals, pharmacies, clinics, nursing homes, and other health care providers for medically necessary services they provided during the period from August 24, 2005, to January 31, 2006, to individuals displaced by Katrina. Patients must have been without private insurance or any other health care coverage.

STATE LEGISLATURE

Abortion Ban

Before the legislative session ended on April 17, the Senate Judiciary Committee held a public hearing on a bill that would prohibit virtually all abortions in the state, including in cases of rape and incest; only abortions performed when the life of the mother is in danger would be exempted from the ban. The bill is expected to come up for discussion again next year.

Unborn Child Sentencing Law

On April 17, Governor Riley signed into law a bill allowing state prosecutors to press two charges against someone who injures or kills a pregnant woman. Under the new law, which takes effect on July 1, when someone commits a violent act against a pregnant mother that results in the loss of her unborn child, the perpetrator can be charged with murdering the child, even if the mother survives; charges for crimes against the mother may also be filed. Alabama was one of 18 states that did not recognize an unborn child as a victim in a crime against a pregnant woman. The bill is referred to as the "Brody Bill" in memory of Brody Parker, the unborn son of 23-year-old Brandy Parker of Albertville, who was eight-and-a-half months pregnant when she was shot and killed in July 2005.

Education Budget

On March 29, the State House and Senate voted to override Governor Riley's veto of the education budget. The Governor had asked the Legislature to reduce the $6 billion spending plan by $60 million so the state could afford to give most state residents a tax cut.

The House voted 63-38 to reject his proposed amendment and 89-10 to override his veto. The Senate voted 26-9 to override the veto (essentially a party-line vote).

Income Tax Bill

On April 12, Governor Riley signed into law a bill to increase Alabama's income tax threshold. The bill raises the income threshold at which Alabama starts taxing a family of four from $4,600 to $12,600 and also cuts taxes for lower- and middle-income families. Pointing to the state's budget surplus, Governor Riley had called on legislators to pass a tax cut during his State of the State Address in January. Alabama was the only state still taxing families of four earning less than $10,000.

INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION ENFORCEMENT TRAINING SOUGHT

In 2003, Governor Riley signed an agreement with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security giving the state the authority to use specially trained state troopers to enforce Federal illegal immigration laws. Alabama is one of only three states in the Nation with that authority. Forty-four Alabama state troopers have gone through Federal immigration training; the cost of the training is covered by the Federal government, while the state pays the salaries and any travel costs incurred by state troops participating in the training. Those who successfully complete the five-week training program are authorized to arrest and detain illegal aliens and turn them over to Federal officials for deportation. More than 160 illegal aliens have been arrested since 2003.

Governor Riley is now requesting that the Federal government provide immigration-enforcement training to another class of Alabama state troopers; he has also directed the Alabama Department of Public Safety to assist local police departments in their efforts to receive Federal training that would allow them to address immigration-related issues in their communities. During the recent session, the State Legislature debated several bills to crack down on illegal immigrants and businesses that hire them.

KEY RACES AND POLITICAL CLIMATE

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY DATE

On April 17, the Legislature passed a bill to move the state's presidential primary from June to the first Tuesday in February, which would make Alabama's primary one of the first in the Nation behind the Iowa caucuses and the New Hampshire primary. Governor Riley has said he will sign the bill, which was endorsed by the state chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties.

ALABAMA BRIEFING

GOVERNOR 2006

Governor Riley is up for re-election in 2006 and faces a primary challenge from former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Roy Moore (R) on June 6. Riley was hurt early in his term when he increased taxes, but his recent response to Hurricane Katrina has improved his standing with the public. A Mobile Register/University of South Alabama poll conducted from April 10 through April 13 showed Riley leading Moore, 64 percent to 20 percent, among likely primary voters. Riley was first elected in 2002 when he defeated incumbent Governor Don Siegelman (D), 49.1 percent to 48.9 percent.

Comment [DLS1]: Did he actually increase taxes, or just propose a tax increase?

Lieutenant Governor Lucy Baxley (D) is actively seeking her party's nomination, although she is being challenged by Siegelman, who – despite highly publicized legal and ethics problems connected to his time as governor – is supported by key Democratic primary voting groups. In October 2005, Siegelman was indicted on charges of racketeering, bribery, and extortion, and his trial is set to begin on May 1. If Siegelman wins the primary and is convicted of pending Federal corruption charges, the Democrats may find themselves without a gubernatorial nominee.

Comment [DLS2]: Accurate as rewritten? (I think inaccurate only if Siegelman has not made up his mind on whether or not to see the nomination)

Comment [DLS3]: Accurate?

Comment [DLS4]: Are we sure about this – won't they get to pick another one through a special election or whatever?

A Mobile Register poll conducted in late February showed Riley leading Siegelman, 53 percent to 27 percent, and Riley leading Baxley, 45 percent to 36 percent, among registered voters. As of January 31, Riley had $4.5 million cash-on-hand, compared to Baxley's $1.2 million and Sieglman's $345,000.

Comment [DLS5]: Do we need to mention the other Democrats -- http://www.politics1.com/al.htm

Comment [DLS6]: Are we sure this is January 31 as opposed to December 31?

All five Republican and two Democrat Congressmen are considered safe for the 2006 elections.

The good news is they are both from January this year and hopefully we can turn these around a little bit easier. Let me know what I can do to help track down information you need to include. ALABAMA BRIEFING

STATE ISSUES

ECONOMY

In November, Alabama's unemployment rate was 3.2 percent, down from its peak of 5.7 percent in November 2003. In December, the national unemployment rate was 4.5 percent.

HURRICANE KATRINA

As of December 8, $1.128 billion in Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) disaster assistance has been obligated for recovery efforts in Alabama. Over 115,000 Alabama households have registered with FEMA for some type of assistance.

On December 22, FEMA announced projects selected under the Alternative Housing Pilot Program (AHPP) to pursue alternative forms of housing, including semi-permanent or permanent alternatives, such as the units colloquially known as "Katrina Cottages." As a part of that program Alabama was allocated approximately $16 million for an alternative housing pilot program in the city of Bayou La Batre. The pilot program aims to expand the types of housing FEMA provides to disaster-affected communities by identifying, developing, and evaluating alternatives to FEMA travel trailers and mobile homes. The funding was authorized in the Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act for Defense, the Global War on Terror, and Hurricane Recovery you signed into law on June 15, 2006.

$72.8 million is anticipated for hazard mitigation projects to help Alabamians rebuild to standards that help prevent damage in future storms.

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

On January 4, the University of Alabama announced Nick Saban as their head football coach following the firing of Mike Shula on November 27, 2006. Previously, Saban was the head coach of the Miami Dolphins and at Louisiana State University.

2006 ELECTION RESULTS, POLITICAL CLIMATE AND KEY 2008 RACES

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

All seven Congressmen (5R, 2D) won re-election in 2006.

GOVERNOR 2006

Governor Bob Riley (R) easily won re-election in 2006. Riley defeated Lieutenant Governor Lucy Baxley (D) by a margin of 57 percent to 42 percent. Riley was first elected Governor in 2002, defeating incumbent Governor Don Siegelman (D) by only 3,120 votes. He is only the second Republican governor in Alabama since Reconstruction. You won the state with 62 percent in 2004.

U.S. SENATE 2008

Senator Jeff Sessions (R) is up for re-election in 2008. Sessions defeated Susan Parker (D) 59 percent to 40 percent in 2002. Sessions was first elected in 1996. There is no clear Democrat opponent yet. Congressman Artur Davis (D, AL-07) has announced he will either be a candidate for Senator Richard Shelby's (R, AL) seat or Governor in 2010, but will not challenge Sessions. State Agriculture Commissioner Ron Sparks (D) and State Senator Vivian Davis Figures (D) are both also considering possible runs for the 2008 senate race.

GEORGIA BRIEFING

STATE ISSUES

ECONOMY

In November 2006, Georgia's unemployment rate was 4.6 percent, down from its peak of 5.5 percent in September 2005. In December, the national unemployment rate was 4.5 percent.

BRAC AND MILITARY CONSTRUCTION FUNDING

As a result of the 2005 Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) actions, Fort Benning will grow substantially. One of the largest moves is the relocation of the Armor Center and School from Fort Knox, Kentucky, to Fort Benning. This alone is expected to bring approximately 30,000 new people to the Fort Benning region by 2011. However, some of the base infrastructure improvements are now endangered because the Military Construction, Military Quality of Life and Veterans Affairs Appropriations Act was approved by the House on May 19, 2006, and by the Senate on November 14. However, the two bills were never reconciled and the funding measure has not been passed for your signature.

Outgoing Army Chief of Staff General Pete Schoomaker and Secretary of the Army Dr. Francis Harvey have contacted the 110th Congress requesting quick action to revive the appropriations to fund new housing and other upgrades of military installations that will be required by the BRAC decisions. The current funding resolution expires February 15. U.S. Senator Saxby Chambliss (R, GA) has introduced legislation to ensure the original $14 billion military construction legislation is funded. Fort Benning stands to lose approximately $300 million in funding if the Military Construction appropriations bill is not approved.

The Fort Benning-area community is very concerned about the potential impact on local school districts and their ability to accommodate a large influx of new students as a result of BRAC. Senator Chambliss, along with eight other Senators, sent a letter to OMB on December 23 requesting your Administration include funding in the Fiscal Year 2007 budget proposal to support local school districts impacted by BRAC.

STATE CHILDREN'S HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM (SCHIP)

Governor Sonny Perdue (R, GA) will not be attending the event at Fort Benning in part because he has privately expressed frustration with the Administration regarding a SCHIP funding issue. The state of Georgia will have a significant federal funds SCHIP shortfall of $128.5 million in FY 2007. This is based on its estimated federal share FY 2007 expenditures of $312.1 million and its currently available FY 2007 allotments of $183.6 million. The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) estimates the state will have sufficient funds to run its SCHIP program though the end of April 2007. However, because of programmatic and operational concerns, such as providing sufficient time to inform providers and recipients about the potential termination of the program, the State of Georgia intends to terminate its program at the end of March 2007. The state will begin notifying providers and beneficiaries in February and reports that up to 270,000 children will no longer be covered under the Peachcare program.

Under the provisions of H.R. 6164, approximately $146.9 million in unexpended FY 2004 allotments will be made available nationally for redistribution to states through March 2007, the first half of FY 2007. These funds would only be available for redistribution to those states experiencing shortfalls in the first half of the fiscal year. Georgia would not be a recipient of such redistribution amounts since they have sufficient funds through about April 2007. H.R. 6164 also provides for a relatively small portion of the states' unexpended FY 2005 allotments available as of March 31, 2007, to be redistributed to states with shortfalls in the second half of FY 2007. Georgia's projected potential redistribution would only be approximately $4.9 million, far short of the Georgia's projected shortfall of $128.4 million.

GEORGIA HOUSE SPEAKER GLENN RICHARDSON

Speaker Glenn Richardson (R) was reelected as the Georgia House Speaker on January 8, the first day of the new legislative session. On the same day, the Georgia Democratic Party filed an ethics complaint against Richardson, alleging he had an "inappropriate personal relationship" with a female lobbyist for Atlanta Gas Light in 2006, at the same time he was the co-sponsor for legislation to finance a $300 million pipeline for the utility. The pipeline legislation was not passed out of the State Senate. State Democratic Party Chairman Bobby Kahn offered no evidence of the alleged relationship in the complaints that he said he mailed to the State Ethics Commission and Joint Committee on Ethics on January 5. Richardson has so far declined to respond directly to Kahn's allegations, saying he does not want to "give them merit."

HOME DEPOT CEO RESIGNS

Bob Nardelli, the CEO of Home Depot, resigned on January 3. Home Depot is based in Atlanta. Nardelli has been criticized for his severance package which, including deferred compensation, totaled $210 million. Nardelli was replaced by Vice Chairman Frank Blake.

GEORGIA BRIEFING

ATLANTA FALCONS HIRE NEW COACH

The Atlanta Falcons fired Coach Jim Mora on January 1. The Falcons announced that Bobby Petrino will be the new Falcons coach on January 8. Petrino was the University of Louisville head coach for four years culminating in a win at the Orange Bowl over Wake Forest University this year.

2006 ELECTION RESULTS, POLITICAL CLIMATE AND KEY 2008 RACES

GOVERNOR 2006

Governor Sonny Perdue (R) defeated Lieutenant Governor Mark Taylor (D), 58 percent to 38 percent and was sworn into office on January 8. Taylor never recovered from a costly primary battle against Secretary of State Cathy Cox (D). Governor Perdue ran a superior campaign, leading Taylor by double-digits throughout the last two months of the campaign. You won Georgia with 58 percent in 2004, leading successful Republican efforts to take control of both houses in the State Assembly for the first time since Reconstruction.

U.S. SENATE

Senator Saxby Chambliss (R) defeated incumbent Senator Max Cleland (D) in 2002 by a margin of 53 percent to 47 percent. You campaigned for Chambliss at three events, including two events the Saturday before the general election. The 2002 campaign is probably best remembered for a television ad from the Chambliss campaign that showed pictures of Osama Bin Laden, Saddam Hussein, and Max Cleland with a voice-over noting that Cleland had "voted against the President's vital homeland security efforts 11 times."

No one has formally declared to seek the Democrat nomination for 2008, but several potential candidates have been mentioned. This list includes Congressman Jim Marshall (D, GA-08), Columbus Trial Lawyer Jim Butler, DeKalb County Chief Executive Officer Vernon Jordan, and the daughter of former U.S. Senator Sam Nunn (D, GA), Michelle Nunn. On January 7, Senator Nunn said that the Iraq War "was the worst strategic error I've seen in modern times by the United States."

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Georgia's Congressional Delegation maintained the same partisan composition (7R, 4D) after the 2006 elections.

GEORGIA BRIEFING

GA-08 (formerly GA-03)
Congressman Jim Marshall (D) narrowly defeated former Congressman Mac Collins (R) by a margin of 51 percent to 49 percent, in the new Eighth Congressional District. The Georgia Legislature redrew district lines in 2005, and you would have won this district with 61 percent in 2004 if it had existed.

Collins waged a competitive campaign, but Marshall was ultimately more successful in casting himself as conservative in a district full of conservative Democrats. Marshall voted for your tax-cuts and the ban on partial-birth abortion. He has also been a strong supporter of the Global War on Terror. Additionally, Marshall is viewed as being a champion for the Warner-Robins Air Force Base, a major presence in this district.

This will be viewed as a competitive race in 2008 if Republicans can recruit a strong candidate. Marshall has also been mentioned as a potential opponent for U.S. Senator Saxby Chambliss (R, GA).

GA-12
In a re-match of their 2004 race, Congressman John Barrow (D) narrowly defeated former Congressman Max Burns (R) by 889 votes. Barrow defeated Burns by a margin of 52 percent to 48 percent in 2004. You would have increased your numbers from 46 percent to 50 percent of the vote in this district had it existed in 2004. While this district gained Republicans in redistricting, it also gained a significant number of traditionally Democrat voters.

The polling in this race had been statistically tied since February 2006, and both candidates raised similar amounts of money. In the end, Barrow successfully crafted his image of an independent thinker who was not afraid to buck the national Democrat Party leadership. In public debates, Barrow joined Burns in supporting your strategy in the Global War on Terror, tougher border security, and opposing amnesty for illegal immigrants.

ALABAMA BRIEFING

STATE ISSUES

ECONOMY

In January, Alabama's unemployment rate was 3.3 percent, down from its peak of 5.7 percent in December 2006. In January, the national unemployment rate was 4.6 percent.

TORNADO DAMAGE AND CASUALTIES

On March 1, powerful storms ripped through Alabama causing 18 fatalities. The storm killed 15 people in the town of Enterprise, a city of 23,000, approximately 75 miles southeast of Montgomery. Thirteen of these deaths occurred at Enterprise High School as students were preparing to leave for the day. The students ran for shelter when the tornado hit the school, blowing out walls and collapsing part of the roof. At least one other person was killed at another location in Enterprise.

The burst of tornadoes were part of a large line of thunderstorms and snowstorms stretching from Minnesota to the Gulf Coast. The storms claimed the life of a seven-year-old girl in Missouri and nine others in Georgia.

Governor Bob Riley (R) has requested approximately 100 National Guardsmen to go into Enterprise to assist in the tornado recovery efforts. Riley also instructed the Alabama Federal Emergency Management Agency to provide assistance. On March 2, you declared a major disaster in Alabama and ordered Federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts. Your action makes Federal funding available to affected individuals in ____, ____, and ____ counties.

Comment [g1]: Alabama has not yet submitted. The latest from OCL is the Governor is almost ready to sign the request asking for Federal aid. At this time, we do not yet know if the Disaster Dec will be approved or if the WH will receive it tonight.

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION

On February 28, the Alabama House and Senate unanimously passed versions of Governor Bob Riley's (R) $400 million incentive package aimed at luring German steel manufacturer ThyssenKrupp AG to the state. Riley called the Legislature into special session on February 26 to seek approval for a constitutional amendment that would increase the Governor's borrowing limit from the state Capital Improvement Trust Fund from $350 million to $750 million. Legislators expect the bill to easily pass on March 2. Once approved, it will go on to a statewide referendum 90 days after the special sessions ends.

Comment [g2]: We are monitoring this as it is happening today.

ThyssenKrupp AG is planning a $2.9 billion steel-making plant that will employ 2,700 people. The company has narrowed its search to a location between New Orleans and Baton Rouge and the Alabama site about 25 miles north of Mobile. Both Riley and Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco (D) have traveled to Germany to meet with officials of the Duesseldorf based company.

ALABAMA BRIEFING

STATE ISSUES

ECONOMY

In January, Alabama's unemployment rate was 3.3 percent, down from its peak of 5.7 percent in December 2006. In January, the national unemployment rate was 4.6 percent.

Comment [d1]: Where did you find this January number? Bureau of Labor and Stats has December #'s, just wanted to update Georgia's political if January #'s are available

Comment [g2R1]: New numbers came out today.

http://blog.al.com/spotnews/2007/03/riley_states_jobless_rate_fell.html

TORNADO DAMAGE AND CASUALTIES

On March 1, powerful storms ripped through Alabama causing 18 fatalities. The storm killed 15 people in the town of Enterprise, a city of 23,000, approximately 75 miles southeast of Montgomery. Thirteen of these deaths occurred at Enterprise High School as students were preparing to leave for the day. The students ran for shelter when the tornado hit the school, blowing out walls and collapsing part of the roof. At least one other person was killed at another location in Enterprise.

The burst of tornadoes were part of a large line of thunderstorms and snowstorms stretching from Minnesota to the Gulf Coast. The storms claimed the life of a seven-year-old girl in Missouri and nine others in Georgia.

The Governor has not submitted a request for Federal assistance.

Governor Bob Riley (R) has requested approximately 100 National Guardsmen to go into Enterprise to assist in the tornado recovery efforts. Riley also instructed the Alabama Federal Emergency Management Agency to provide assistance. On March 2, you declared a major disaster in Alabama and ordered Federal aid to supplement state and local recovery efforts. Your action makes Federal funding available to affected individuals in ____, ____, and ____ counties.

Comment [g3]: Alabama has not yet submitted. The latest from OCL is the Governor is almost ready to sign the request asking for Federal aid. At this time, we do not yet know if the Disaster Dec will be approved or if the WH will receive it tonight.

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION

On February 28, the Alabama House and Senate unanimously passed versions of Governor Bob Riley's (R) $400 million incentive package aimed at luring German steel manufacturer ThyssenKrupp AG to the state. Riley called the Legislature into special session on February 26 to seek approval for a constitutional amendment that would increase the Governor's borrowing limit from the state's Capital Improvement Trust Fund from $350 million to $750 million. Legislators passed the bill on March 2, and ~~expect the bill to easily pass on March 2. Once approved, it~~ will go ~~on~~ to a statewide referendum set for June 5. ~~90 days after the special sessions ends~~.

Comment [g4]: Passed this afternoon.
