Chief Executive Officer
Center for Countering Digital Hate
1250 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 700
Washington, DC 20036

Dear Mr. Ahmed:

The Committee on the Judiciary is conducting oversight of how and to what extent the Executive Branch has coerced and colluded with companies and other intermediaries to censor speech.¹ Certain third parties, including organizations like yours, appear to have played a role in this censorship regime by advising the government and social media companies on so-called “misinformation” and other types of content—sometimes with direct or indirect support or approval from the federal government.² Whether directly or indirectly, a government-approved or -facilitated censorship regime is a grave threat to the First Amendment and Americans’ civil liberties. Accordingly, as part of the Committee’s constitutional oversight obligations, we write to request relevant information and documents.

We are interested in understanding the interactions between the Center for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH) and the federal government in particular, as well as between CCDH and social media companies. CCDH claims that “social media companies erode basic human rights and civil liberties by enabling the spread of online hate and disinformation.”³ According to its website, “CCDH holds [the social media companies] accountable and responsible for their business choices by . . . advocating change from platforms and governments to protect our communities.”⁴ The Biden White House relied on CCDH’s report titled “The Disinformation Dozen,” in its unconstitutional pressure campaign against social media platforms⁵ to censor those, including Robert F. Kennedy Jr., who CCDH maligned as “anti-vaxxers . . . responsible for almost two-thirds of anti-vaccine content circulating on social media platforms.”⁶
