Dear Mr. Huffman:

The Committee on the Judiciary is conducting oversight of how and to what extent foreign laws, regulations, and judicial orders compel, coerce, or influence companies to censor speech in the United States.¹ In furtherance of this oversight, the Committee issued document subpoenas to ten technology companies—including Reddit—requiring them to produce communications with foreign censors, including the European Commission and European Union (EU) Member States.² Since then, technology companies have produced to the Committee thousands of internal documents and communications with the European Commission and EU Member States pursuant to the Committee's subpoenas.³ These documents show the extent of the European Commission's global censorship campaign.⁴ The documents demonstrate how the EU coerced social media platforms to take down lawful speech, change their globally applicable content moderation policies, and impose onerous speech restrictions not only within the EU, but also on American speech.⁵

To date, the European Commission has failed to offer a rebuttal to this evidence that it has engaged in a decade-long censorship campaign.⁶ Rather than reconsidering its censorship laws and changing its attitude towards free speech, the European Commission seems to be doubling down on its censorship efforts by attempting to hide them from the public.⁷ According to recent reporting, in response to fears about accountability from the United States, Prabhat Agarwal, the head of the European Commission’s enforcement team for the Digital Services Act (DSA), told a group of European regulators that his colleagues have “started sending messages via . . . an encrypted app, rather than email, and many now have messages set to auto-delete, with the ‘auto-delete timings getting shorter.’”⁸ In light of this reporting, we write to reiterate that the Committee’s subpoena to Reddit is “continuing in nature” and that the subpoena requires Reddit to preserve and produce relevant communications, including these auto-deleting messages, with foreign censors.⁹

Pursuant to the subpoena, Reddit has a duty to produce all “communications between Reddit and foreign governments regarding the company’s compliance with foreign censorship laws, regulations, judicial orders, or other government-initiated efforts, and internal Reddit communications discussing communications from foreign governments.”¹⁰ The subpoena explicitly requires that these relevant documents “shall not be destroyed, modified, removed, transferred, or otherwise made inaccessible to the Committee.”¹¹ As such, Reddit has a duty to preserve and produce to the Committee even those messages sent by foreign regulators using messaging platforms with auto-delete functions.¹²

Accordingly, for all these reasons, we expect Reddit’s full compliance with the terms of the Committee’s subpoena. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Jim Jordan
Chairman
